

LANGUOROUS

Meaning: Languorous: characterized by a state of sluggishness or a dreamy, relaxed, and pleasant lethargy, often associated with warmth or tranquility.

1. The summer afternoon was languorous, filled with the gentle hum of bees and the scent of blooming flowers.
2. As she lounged in the hammock, a languorous wave of relaxation washed over her, making it hard to think of anything but the present moment.
3. His languorous gaze lingered on the horizon, captivated by the vibrant colors of the sunset.
4. The languorous melody of the piano echoed through the room, enveloping everyone in a state of serene bliss.
5. After a long week of work, he indulged in a languorous weekend, savoring every hour of leisure.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/languorous>