

LARGILOQUENT

Meaning: LARGILOQUENT: characterized by the use of extravagant or pompous language, often to impress or persuade.

1. The politician's largiloquent speech captivated the audience, filled with grand promises and elaborate metaphors.
2. Despite his largiloquent style, the author struggled to convey his message clearly and concisely.
3. Her largiloquent explanations often left her listeners confused rather than enlightened.
4. In a world that values brevity, his largiloquent tendencies were both admired and mocked.
5. The professor's largiloquent lectures were a blend of erudition and theatricality, drawing students into the subject matter.

---

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/largiloquent>