

LEIPOTHYMIC

Meaning: Leipothymic refers to a state of feeling melancholic or emotionally detached, often characterized by a sense of sadness or loss of interest.

1. The sudden shift in her mood left her feeling leipothymic and detached from her surroundings.
2. After a long week of stress, he often experienced leipothymic episodes that made it hard to focus.
3. During the therapy session, she described her leipothymic tendencies as a rollercoaster of emotional highs and lows.
4. His leipothymic state prevented him from enjoying the party, leaving him feeling isolated despite being surrounded by friends.
5. Understanding her leipothymic nature helped her adopt healthier coping strategies for managing her emotions.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/leipothymic>