

LIMEWATER

Meaning: Limewater is a diluted solution of calcium hydroxide in water, often used in laboratories to test for carbon dioxide and historically prescribed for medicinal purposes.

1. Limewater is commonly used in laboratories to test for carbon dioxide.
2. In the past, doctors prescribed limewater as a remedy for various ailments.
3. The clear solution of limewater can turn milky when carbon dioxide is bubbled through it.
4. My grandmother used to keep a bottle of limewater on hand for cleaning purposes.
5. Limewater is created by dissolving calcium hydroxide in water, resulting in a basic solution.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/limewater>