

LITURGICALLY

Meaning: LITURGICALLY: In a manner that relates to or is characteristic of liturgy, especially in a formal and ceremonial context.

1. The choir sang liturgically, enhancing the solemn atmosphere of the service.
2. During the ceremony, the priest spoke liturgically, invoking a sense of reverence among the congregation.
3. The church's decorations were arranged liturgically, reflecting the themes of the liturgical calendar.
4. The prayers were recited liturgically, creating a rhythmic flow that engaged all the worshippers.
5. He approached the altar liturgically, mindful of the sacred traditions that guided his actions.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/liturgically>