

LONGHAND

Meaning: Longhand refers to a style of writing in which letters are formed individually and connected in a continuous manner, typically using a pen or pencil, as opposed to typing.

1. She prefers to take notes in longhand rather than typing on her laptop.
2. Writing his thoughts in longhand helps him process his emotions more clearly.
3. The professor insisted that all assignments be submitted in longhand to encourage better retention of the material.
4. In a world dominated by digital communication, she still finds comfort in writing letters in longhand.
5. Her longhand notes were filled with doodles and annotations that brought the content to life.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/longhand>