

LOOKING-GLASS

Meaning: Looking-glass: a mirror, often used metaphorically to represent a portal or gateway to another realm or perspective.

1. The children peered into the looking-glass, fascinated by their own reflections.
2. In the story, the protagonist discovers a hidden world through the looking-glass.
3. She adjusted her dress and checked her appearance in the looking-glass before leaving the house.
4. The looking-glass served as a portal, transporting the characters to a fantastical realm.
5. As the sun set, the looking-glass on the wall shimmered with an ethereal glow.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/looking-glass>