

LOVE-SICK

Meaning: Love-sick: experiencing overwhelming emotional distress or longing due to unrequited love or the absence of a loved one.

1. She wandered aimlessly through the park, feeling utterly love-sick after their bittersweet farewell.
2. His friends teased him for being so love-sick, but he couldn't help daydreaming about her smile.
3. The love-sick poet poured his heart into his verses, hoping to capture his longing on the page.
4. After weeks of separation, she found herself love-sick, counting down the days until their reunion.
5. He listened to the same song on repeat, drowning in love-sick nostalgia for a relationship that had ended too soon.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/love-sick>