

LUPININE

Meaning: Lupinine is a toxic alkaloid found in certain plants, particularly lupins, known for its unique chemical properties and effects on biological systems.

1. The chemist discovered that lupinine exhibited unique properties when combined with other alkaloids.
2. In her research on plant toxins, she focused particularly on the effects of lupinine on mammalian physiology.
3. The bright purple flowers of the lupin plant hinted at the presence of lupinine, known for its potent effects.
4. Farmers often avoid planting lupin crops in livestock grazing areas due to the toxicity of lupinine.
5. Lupinine's bitter taste serves as a natural defense mechanism against herbivores in its native habitat.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/lupinine>