

MACRUROID

Meaning: Macruroid refers to a group of elongated marine species, particularly within the class of fish, characterized by their distinct body and tail structures.

1. The macruroid species are known for their elongated bodies and distinct tail structures.
2. Researchers discovered a new macroroid specimen during their deep-sea expedition.
3. Macruroid organisms play a significant role in the ocean's benthic ecosystems.
4. The study focused on the evolutionary adaptations of macruroid creatures to extreme environments.
5. Marine biologists were fascinated by the unique feeding habits of the macruroid found in the coral reef.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/macruroid>