

MALAPROPISM

Meaning: Malapropism is the unintentional misuse of a word by confusing it with a similar-sounding one, often resulting in a humorous effect.

1. The comedian's use of malapropism added a humorous twist to his routine.
2. In her speech, she unintentionally committed a malapropism that left the audience in stitches.
3. His frequent malapropisms made him the comic relief in otherwise serious conversations.
4. While trying to sound sophisticated, she often fell victim to malapropism, much to her friends' amusement.
5. The author's clever use of malapropism highlighted the characters' lack of education.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/malapropism>