

MALIGNER

Meaning: Maligner (noun): a person who speaks ill of or spreads false information about someone, often with the intent to harm their reputation.

1. The maligners in the community spread false rumors that tarnished her reputation.
2. Despite the maligners' efforts, the truth eventually prevailed, revealing her integrity.
3. He felt the sting of betrayal when he discovered that some of his closest friends were maligners.
4. The maligners thrived in the shadows, preying on the insecurities of others to achieve their goals.
5. She refused to engage with maligners, choosing instead to focus on positivity and support.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/maligner>