

MAN-OF-WAR

Meaning: Man-of-war: a marine cnidarian, specifically the Portuguese man o' war, known for its distinctive gas-filled bladder and long, stinging tentacles.

1. The man-of-war glided gracefully through the aquamarine waters, its vibrant tentacles trailing behind.
2. Legend has it that the man-of-war's sting can be so painful that even the bravest sailors fear encountering it.
3. During our snorkeling adventure, we were awed by the sight of a man-of-war floating near the coral reef.
4. Many beachgoers were warned to stay clear of the man-of-war that had washed ashore after the storm.
5. The intricate beauty of the man-of-war belies the danger it poses to unsuspecting swimmers.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/man-of-war>