

MANDELIC

Meaning: Mandelic refers to a type of alpha hydroxy acid derived from almonds, commonly used in skincare for its exfoliating properties and in medicinal chemistry for its antibacterial applications.

1. Mandelic acid is often used in skincare products due to its gentle exfoliating properties.
2. The researcher synthesized a novel mandelic compound that showed promise in treating bacterial infections.
3. Her dermatologist recommended a mandelic peel to help with her acne scars.
4. The unique mandelic flavor of the dessert surprised the guests at the dinner party.
5. He studied the effects of mandelic therapy on patients with hyperpigmentation.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/mandelic>