MARGENT

Meaning: MARGENT (noun): The margin or border of a physical space, such as a riverbank or the edge of a document.

1. The margent of the river was lined with colorful wildflowers.
2. In the margent of the document, I noted several important points for discussion.
3. As the sun set, the margent of the lake reflected a stunning array of colors.
4. He found a quiet spot at the margent of the forest to set up his camp.
5. The artist painted a serene landscape, highlighting the margent between land and sky.
6. The margent of the page was carefully decorated with intricate designs.
7. During the meeting, we discussed the marginal benefits of the new project on the margent of our budget.
8. She loved to write notes in the margent of her favorite books, adding her thoughts to the text.
9. The artist drew inspiration from the margent of the landscape, where land met sky.
10. In the legal document, the lawyer made annotations in the margent to clarify key points.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/margent