

MEDDLING

Meaning: Meddling refers to interfering in someone else's affairs or involving oneself in matters that do not concern one, often in an intrusive or unwanted manner.

1. Her constant meddling in my personal affairs is starting to frustrate me.
2. The detective warned against meddling with evidence before the investigation was complete.
3. He had a habit of meddling in his friends' relationships, often causing more harm than good.
4. Meddling politicians can complicate issues that would be better left to experts.
5. She resented his meddling nature, believing everyone should handle their own problems.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/meddling>