

MEGALITH

Meaning: A megalith is a large stone that has been used in the construction of a prehistoric monument or structure, often serving a ceremonial or symbolic purpose.

1. The ancient site was marked by a massive megalith that had stood for millennia.
2. Archaeologists speculated that the megalith served as a ceremonial marker for early human communities.
3. Visitors to the national park were amazed by the sheer size of the megalith towering over the landscape.
4. The megalith was intricately carved, revealing the artistic talents of the civilization that created it.
5. Many cultures around the world have left behind megaliths that continue to intrigue historians and tourists alike.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/megalith>