

MELANOCOMOUS

Meaning: Melanocomous refers to having dark or black pigmentation, particularly in the context of coloration in species such as fish.

1. The researchers discovered a new species of fish that exhibited melanocomous characteristics in its coloration.
2. In the world of genetics, the study of melanocomous traits has opened up new avenues for understanding pigmentation in various animals.
3. Wildlife photographers often seek out melanocomous creatures, as their unique appearances can create stunning visual contrasts in nature.
4. The conservationist emphasized the importance of protecting habitats that support melanocomous populations, which are often threatened by environmental changes.
5. During the presentation, the biologist explained how melanocomous variations can affect an organism's ability to adapt to its surroundings.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/melanocomous>