

MERCURIAL

Meaning: Mercurial: characterized by rapid and unpredictable changes in mood or behavior; volatile.

1. Her mercurial temperament made it difficult for her friends to predict her mood from one day to the next.
2. The artist's mercurial style shifted dramatically between vibrant colors and subdued tones.
3. He was known for his mercurial genius, able to create masterpieces in the blink of an eye.
4. In negotiations, her mercurial nature often left her opponents off balance and unsure of her next move.
5. The weather in the mountains can be mercurial, changing from sunny to stormy in mere minutes.
6. Her mercurial temperament made it difficult for her friends to predict her reactions.
7. The artist's mercurial style evolved from vibrant abstract forms to subdued realism in just a few months.
8. He was known for his mercurial charm, captivating everyone he met with his quick wit and changing moods.
9. The stock market's mercurial nature left many investors anxious about their portfolios.
10. Despite his mercurial personality, he had a deep commitment to his work and his colleagues.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/mercurial>