

METALEPTICAL

Meaning: Metaleptical refers to a narrative technique that blurs the boundaries between different layers of reality and fiction, often merging the perspectives of the narrator and characters.

1. The concept of metaleptical narratives challenges traditional storytelling by blending layers of reality and fiction.
2. In her book, the author employs metaleptical techniques to blur the lines between the narrator and the characters.
3. His metaleptical approach to art invites viewers to question the boundaries of perception and representation.
4. The film's metaleptical structure allows it to comment on its own medium while engaging the audience on multiple levels.
5. Critics praised the metaleptical elements in the play, which added depth to its exploration of identity and existence.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/metaleptical>