

METALLIFORM

Meaning: Metalliform refers to having a form or structure resembling metal, often characterized by a shiny, reflective appearance or properties associated with metal.

1. The artist created a stunning sculpture that had a metalliform structure, glinting in the sunlight.
2. Scientists discovered a new alloy that exhibited unique metalliform properties, enhancing its durability.
3. In the world of fashion, designers are increasingly incorporating metalliform fabrics into their collections for a futuristic look.
4. The architect's vision for the building included a striking metalliform facade that would reflect the surrounding environment.
5. During the exhibition, the metalliform installations captivated visitors with their intricate designs and reflective surfaces.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/metalliform>