

METAPECTIC

Meaning: Metapectic refers to the transformations and chemical processes involving pectin or pectin-like substances, particularly in the context of plant biochemistry.

1. The term 'metapectic' is often used in discussions of advanced chemical processes.
2. Researchers have begun to explore metapectic transformations in plant biochemistry.
3. In geology, metapectic reactions can significantly alter the properties of minerals.
4. The study of metapectic phases offers insight into the evolution of certain geological formations.
5. Understanding metapectic processes is crucial for developing new materials in nanotechnology.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/metapectic>