

MICROCRYSTALLINE

Meaning: Microcrystalline refers to a material composed of very small crystals, typically in the range of a few micrometers, which can influence its optical and physical properties.

1. Microcrystalline structures are often observed in certain types of gemstones.
2. The material's microcrystalline nature contributes to its unique optical properties.
3. Researchers are exploring the applications of microcrystalline cellulose in pharmaceuticals.
4. The artist preferred using microcrystalline wax for its ease of modeling and durability.
5. Microcrystalline materials can exhibit different behaviors compared to their crystalline counterparts.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/microcrystalline>