

MICROPHYLLOUS

Meaning: Microphyllous refers to having small leaves, often characterized by a reduced surface area, which can be adapted for specific environmental conditions such as low light or moisture retention.

1. The microphyllous leaves of the plant are adapted to thrive in low-light environments.
2. Researchers studied the microphyllous structure to understand its role in water retention.
3. In some species, microphyllous characteristics are a response to nutrient-poor soils.
4. The evolutionary advantages of having microphyllous foliage include reduced transpiration rates.
5. Herbivores often avoid microphyllous plants due to their tough, fibrous texture.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/microphyllous>