

MILVUS

Meaning: Milvus is a genus of birds of prey, commonly known as kites, characterized by their long wings and tail, often seen soaring in the sky while hunting for small animals.

1. The milvus soared gracefully above the valley, its sharp eyes scanning the ground for prey.
2. Birdwatchers flocked to the area in hopes of catching a glimpse of the elusive milvus in flight.
3. In ancient cultures, the milvus was often seen as a symbol of freedom and strength.
4. The distinct call of the milvus echoed through the trees, a soundtrack to the serene landscape.
5. Conservation efforts have been put in place to protect the milvus and its natural habitat from urban development.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/milvus>