

MISCOLOR

Meaning: To miscolor means to alter or distort the colors of something, often for artistic effect or to create a different aesthetic.

1. The artist chose to miscolor the landscape to evoke a sense of surrealism.
2. In her latest project, she aimed to miscolor the traditional patterns, giving them a modern twist.
3. The printer malfunctioned, causing the final product to miscolor the original design.
4. He felt that the film's attempt to miscolor historical events undermined its credibility.
5. The fabric's dye was poorly mixed, leading to a miscolor that affected the entire batch.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/miscolor>