

MISNUMBER

Meaning: To misnumber is to assign incorrect or improper numbers to items, such as invoices or pages, leading to confusion or disorganization.

1. The accountant realized he had misnumbered the invoices, causing confusion in the records.
2. During the review, the editor discovered that the pages had been misnumbered, disrupting the flow of the document.
3. It's important to double-check the entries to avoid misnumbering and ensure accurate data collection.
4. The teacher caught the student misnumbering the problems on the math test, which affected his final score.
5. After the presentation, she apologized for misnumbering the slides, which led to some misunderstandings among the audience.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/misnumber>