

MISRENDER

Meaning: To misrender means to interpret, represent, or present something incorrectly or inaccurately.

1. The artist feared that the critics would misrender her intentions in the new exhibition.
2. Due to a misrender in the software, the final output did not match the original design.
3. When the script was misrendered, it led to a series of unfortunate misunderstandings among the team.
4. In the translation process, certain phrases were misrendered, altering the original meaning significantly.
5. The misrender of the data visualization left the audience confused about the results of the study.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/misrender>