

MONADIFORM

Meaning: Monadiform refers to having a single, unified structure or form, often used in biological and philosophical contexts to describe entities that exhibit individuality.

1. The term "monadiform" is often used in biology to describe organisms that exhibit a single, unified structure.
2. In certain philosophical discussions, the concept of a monadiform entity can lead to interesting debates about individuality and existence.
3. The artist's latest sculpture is a stunning representation of a monadiform shape, emphasizing unity and simplicity.
4. In mathematics, a monadiform structure can simplify complex problems by reducing them to their core elements.
5. The architect's design featured monadiform elements that created a harmonious flow throughout the entire space.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/monadiform>