

MONOGENIC

Meaning: Monogenic refers to traits or disorders that are determined by mutations in a single gene.

1. Monogenic disorders are caused by mutations in a single gene.
2. Researchers are focusing on monogenic traits to better understand hereditary diseases.
3. The study of monogenic conditions can reveal insights into complex genetic interactions.
4. Monogenic diseases often have clear patterns of inheritance within families.
5. Advancements in gene therapy are providing hope for treating monogenic disorders.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/monogenic>