

MONORGANIC

Meaning: Monorganic refers to compounds that consist of a single type of organic molecule, often studied for their distinct properties and potential applications in fields like sustainable energy.

1. The new research focused on monorganic compounds to explore their potential in sustainable energy solutions.
2. In the realm of organic chemistry, monorganic substances are often studied for their unique properties and applications.
3. She was fascinated by monorganic materials and their role in creating biodegradable plastics.
4. The monorganic nature of the compound made it easier to synthesize in the laboratory.
5. Scientists are investigating monorganic fertilizers to enhance crop yield while minimizing environmental impact.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/monorganic>