

MONOTREME

Meaning: Monotreme refers to a group of egg-laying mammals, exemplified by the platypus and echidna, that exhibit primitive reproductive traits.

1. A monotreme is a unique type of egg-laying mammal, with the most well-known examples being the platypus and echidna.
2. Scientists are fascinated by monotremes due to their primitive reproductive methods compared to other mammals.
3. While most mammals give live birth, monotremes are an exception that showcases evolutionary diversity.
4. The study of monotremes can provide insights into the early stages of mammalian evolution.
5. Monotremes have a distinctive appearance, combining features of mammals and reptiles in their physiology.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/monotreme>