

MONOTRIGLYPH

Meaning: Monotriglyph: a decorative architectural element consisting of a single triglyph, typically used in friezes to enhance classical design.

1. The architect incorporated a monotriglyph design into the frieze, highlighting the building's classical influences.
2. In ancient Greek architecture, a monotriglyph often served as a decorative element that bridged structural gaps.
3. The monotriglyph pattern on the temple's façade drew the attention of art historians during the restoration project.
4. Many students of classical architecture find the concept of the monotriglyph both intriguing and challenging to understand.
5. During his lecture, the professor explained the significance of the monotriglyph in relation to Doric columns.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/monotriglyph>