

MORIBUND

Meaning: Moribund: in a state of decline or stagnation, lacking vitality or progress.

1. The once-thriving town felt moribund after the factory closed, leaving many in despair.
2. His career had become moribund, with no new opportunities on the horizon.
3. The moribund economy struggled to recover from the recent recession, causing widespread concern.
4. She found the conversation moribund, lacking any energy or enthusiasm.
5. The organization was on the verge of collapse, its projects moribund and unfunded.
6. The once-thriving town had become moribund, with shops closing and streets empty.
7. His enthusiasm for the project was moribund, leaving the team feeling demoralized and unmotivated.
8. As the industry faced new challenges, many feared it was entering a moribund phase.
9. The theater struggled to attract an audience, leaving its performances feeling increasingly moribund.
10. Her moribund interest in the subject was evident during the class discussions.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/moribund>