MUCINOGEN

Meaning: Mucinogen is a substance that stimulates the production of mucus in the body.

1. Mucinogen is a term used to describe substances that stimulate the production of mucus in the body.
2. In certain medical conditions, the presence of mucinogen can indicate abnormal mucus secretion.
3. Research has shown that mucinogen plays a critical role in the protection of epithelial surfaces.
4. The study aimed to identify the mucinogen levels in patients with respiratory diseases.
5. Understanding the function of mucinogen could lead to new treatments for conditions involving excessive mucus production.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/mucinogen