

MUCOID

Meaning: Muroid refers to a gelatinous or slimy substance resembling mucus, often associated with bacterial growth or infection.

1. The laboratory technician noted that the muroid substance was a key indicator of infection.
2. In the study, researchers observed muroid colonies forming in the culture dishes.
3. The patient's symptoms suggested the presence of muroid secretions in the respiratory tract.
4. During the dissection, the biologist identified muroid layers within the digestive system of the specimen.
5. The muroid consistency of the sample made it challenging to analyze accurately.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/muroid>