

MULTIPLICATIVELY

Meaning: In a manner that involves or results from multiplication, particularly in terms of increasing or enhancing effects.

1. She approached the problem multiplicatively, considering the impact of each variable on the overall outcome.
2. The team's performance improved multiplicatively after they implemented the new training regimen.
3. In the experiment, the results were observed to grow multiplicatively rather than additively.
4. The company's profits increased multiplicatively, reflecting a successful strategy in the competitive market.
5. By combining their resources multiplicatively, the two organizations achieved greater efficiency and effectiveness.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/multiplicatively>