

MULTOCULAR

Meaning: Multocular refers to organisms possessing multiple eyes, which often provide enhanced vision and adaptations for survival in extreme environments.

1. The scientist presented a groundbreaking study on multocular creatures that thrive in extreme environments.
2. Many multocular organisms have evolved unique adaptations to enhance their vision and survival.
3. The discovery of multocular species in the deep ocean has opened new avenues for research in evolutionary biology.
4. In the art exhibit, the artist explored the concept of multocular perspectives, challenging viewers to see from different angles.
5. The term "multocular" is often used in biology and optics to describe entities with multiple visual organs.

---

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/multocular>