

MUTTERER

Meaning: MUTTERER (noun): A person who speaks in a low, indistinct voice, often expressing complaints or frustrations quietly and to oneself.

1. The old man in the corner was a known mutterer, often lost in his own world of grumbling.
2. As a mutterer, she often expressed her frustrations under her breath, making it hard for others to engage.
3. During meetings, his habit of muttering made it difficult for colleagues to understand his true opinions.
4. The mutterer's quiet complaints about the service went unnoticed by the bustling staff.
5. Even when surrounded by friends, she remained a mutterer, preferring to voice her thoughts softly rather than loudly.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/mutterer>