

MUZZLE-LOADING

Meaning: Muzzle-loading refers to a type of firearm that is loaded from the front end of the barrel, typically using loose powder and a projectile, commonly associated with historical weapons.

1. Muzzle-loading rifles were once the standard for hunters in the early 19th century.
2. The museum featured an impressive collection of antique muzzle-loading firearms.
3. He enjoyed the challenge of precision shooting with his muzzle-loading pistol.
4. Muzzle-loading enthusiasts often participate in historical reenactments to showcase their skills.
5. Regulations for muzzle-loading competitions can vary significantly from one event to another.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/muzzle-loading>