

NODATION

Meaning: NODATION: The arrangement or pattern of structural features in a biological or linguistic context, such as the growth patterns of a plant's stem or the clustering of sounds in dialects.

1. The nodation of the plant's stem indicates its growth pattern.
2. In linguistics, nodation can refer to the way sounds cluster in certain dialects.
3. The artist used a technique of nodation to create depth in her painting.
4. Understanding nodation is essential for botanists studying plant morphology.
5. The research focused on the nodation process in the development of new technologies.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com