

NODDER

Meaning: Nodder (noun): a person who frequently or habitually nods their head in agreement or affirmation during conversations or discussions.

1. The old man sat in the corner, a quiet nodder who seemed to agree with everything said around him.
2. During the meeting, Sarah noticed that Tim was a habitual nodder, always affirming her points with an enthusiastic tilt of his head.
3. As a nodder of approval, the teacher smiled at the students when they successfully solved the challenging problem.
4. In conversations, being a nodder can sometimes encourage speakers to continue sharing their thoughts more freely.
5. The nodder in the audience seemed to represent the general consensus, making others feel validated in their opinions.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/nodder>