

NOMINAL

Meaning: Nominal refers to a stated or face value that does not account for adjustments, such as inflation or additional costs.

1. The nominal fee for the service makes it accessible to a wider audience.
2. In economics, nominal values do not account for inflation, unlike real values.
3. Her role in the project was nominal, yet her influence was felt throughout the team.
4. The nominal leader of the committee rarely participated in the discussions.
5. Despite being nominally in charge, she often delegated responsibilities to others.
6. The nominal fee for using the facility made it accessible to everyone in the community.
7. In a nominal sense, the project was considered a success, despite the many challenges faced during its execution.
8. Her nominal title did not reflect the substantial impact she had on the team's overall performance.
9. While the nominal interest rate on the loan seemed low, the fees hidden in the fine print were quite significant.
10. The nominal data collected from the survey provided useful insights, even though it lacked detailed quantitative analysis.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/nominal>