NONCONDUCTING

Meaning: Nonconducting refers to a material's property of not allowing the flow of electrical current.

1. The material was chosen for its nonconducting properties, making it ideal for insulation.
2. Nonconducting substances are essential in preventing electrical current from passing through unwanted areas.
3. In the laboratory, we used a nonconducting container to avoid any interference with our experiments.
4. The design of the circuit required nonconducting materials to ensure safety and efficiency.
5. She wore nonconducting gloves while handling the sensitive equipment to protect herself from electric shock.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/nonconducting