

NORTHING

Meaning: Northing is the measurement of distance northward from a specified reference point, used in surveying and cartography to determine geographical positions.

1. The surveyor calculated the northing to determine the exact position of the landmark.
2. In cartography, northing is essential for establishing a clear understanding of geographical locations.
3. The data collected included both easting and northing values for precise mapping.
4. During the expedition, they recorded the northing values to ensure accurate navigation through the wilderness.
5. Understanding northing is crucial for anyone involved in astronomical or geodetic studies.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/northing>