

OBJECTIONABLE

Meaning: Objectionable refers to something that is offensive, inappropriate, or likely to cause disapproval or protest.

1. The film was criticized for its objectionable content that many deemed inappropriate for children.
2. Her comments during the meeting were seen as objectionable and led to heated discussions among the team.
3. Many people found the advertisement objectionable due to its use of stereotypes and offensive imagery.
4. The school board decided to ban the book because it contained objectionable themes that could disturb young readers.
5. He raised an objectionable point during the debate that overshadowed the more important issues at hand.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/objectionable>