

OUTFROWN

Meaning: Outfrown (verb): To display a more intense or formidable frown than someone else, often conveying a stronger emotion or disapproval.

1. She managed to outfrown everyone in the room with her intense expression.
2. The puppy's sad eyes seemed to outfrown even the grumpiest of our friends.
3. Despite the competition, his frown was so deep that it could easily outfrown the rest.
4. In a contest of disapproval, she always knew how to outfrown her opponents.
5. They exchanged glances, each trying to outfrown the other in a silent battle of wills.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/outfrown>