

OUTRANK

Meaning: Outrank: to have a higher status, position, or importance than someone or something else.

1. His experience and qualifications will likely outrank those of the other candidates.
2. In the corporate world, performance metrics can often outrank personal relationships.
3. The general's strategic insights seemed to outrank his peers during the military briefing.
4. In this competition, creativity may outrank traditional skills in determining the winner.
5. Data privacy concerns can often outrank consumer convenience in today's digital landscape.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/outrank>