

OVERDEVELOP

Meaning: To overdevelop means to excessively enhance or expand something, often leading to negative consequences such as loss of quality or essential features.

1. Excessive urban expansion can often lead to areas being overdeveloped, resulting in loss of green spaces.
2. The company decided to overdevelop its product line, which ultimately diluted its brand identity.
3. Environmentalists warn that overdeveloping coastal regions can disrupt local ecosystems and wildlife habitats.
4. In an effort to attract tourists, the town risked overdeveloping its natural landscapes, which angered local residents.
5. Overdeveloping certain skills without balancing them with others can lead to a narrow expertise that limits opportunities.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/overdevelop>