

OVERDRESS

Meaning: To overdress means to wear clothing that is more formal or elaborate than what is appropriate for a particular occasion.

1. She felt out of place at the casual barbecue because she had chosen to overdress in a formal gown.
2. It's better to overdress for an event than to show up underdressed and feel uncomfortable.
3. He decided to overdress for the job interview, believing that a sharp suit would make a good impression.
4. Many guests opted to overdress for the wedding, showcasing their finest attire in vibrant colors.
5. She always worried about overdressing for the office, but her colleagues appreciated her stylish outfits.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/overdress>